

Trans Aero MEDEVAC

MEDICAL SERVICES AND CAPABILITIES

Trans Aero MedEvac is an air medical transport company formed in the principals of excellence in aviation safety and clinical medicine. In business since 1969, Trans Aero LTD primarily focused on heli-fire fighting activities, as well as contracted helicopter services and maintenance. In 2016, they joined forces with EMSRx, a company known for clinical excellence and support services, to bring a quality focus back to air medicine.

EQUIPMENT

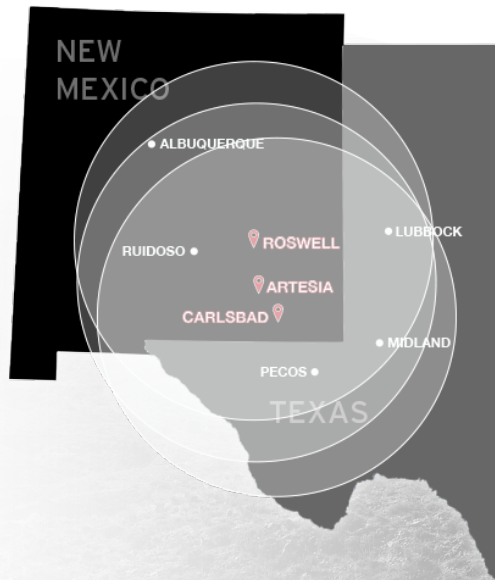

At Trans Aero MedEvac, we invest heavily in our clinical capabilities. Our onboard equipment is consistent with the latest standards within the medical industry, and our ships are equipped with many life-saving tools unique to our programs. Equipment includes:

- Hamilton T1 ventilator
- Blood products (Whole Blood and Plasma)
- Ultrasound machine
- Toco monitor

PROVIDERS

Our crew is the foundation of our business. All of our Certified Flight Physicians, NP's, PA's, Paramedics, and Nurses are trained to the highest standard in the industry, and equipped to provide the latest in clinical technology and practice. The majority of our flights include either a Physician, PA, or NP, to ensure the best care available in air medicine.

SERVICES

In addition to emergency medical services routinely provided on most air ambulances, Trans Aero MedEvac has equipped its ships with the latest standards in equipment and technology, thus allowing for more advanced onboard procedures.

COMMUNITY

We are grateful to be a part of each and every area we serve, and believe it is our duty to play an active role within them. We invite community members to attend our monthly training sessions, and have an open-door policy on most everything we do.

If you would like to know more about what we are doing within the community, or would like to collaborate with us, please reach out to us directly.

MEMBERSHIPS

At Trans Aero MedEvac, we know the struggle that medical bills can cause. While insurance companies may cover a portion of those bills, they will often not cover the total of an air ambulance transport bill, which leaves patients with the issue of having to pay thousands of dollars out-of-pocket.

With a Trans Aero MedEvac membership, you will not have that problem. A yearly membership payment ensures that you and your covered family members will not have to pay anything beyond the amount reimbursed by your health insurance for a medically necessary air ambulance transport bill.
