PREPAID AIR MEDICAL TRANSPORT

Every year, thousands of Americans have a medical emergency that requires transportation by air to a medical facility that can treat their specific illness or injury. Many of these individuals have insurance, but are crushed to find out that their provider doesn't cover the total costs of air transport, which can run into the thousands of dollars.

At Trans Aero MedEvac, we've developed a comprehensive prepaid Critical Care air medical transport program to protect you and your family, and to bring the peace of mind that, after a medical emergency, you won't end up owing substantial amounts of money for the transport services that were needed to save a life.

Our program allows individuals like yourself to prepay (at a discounted rate), into a mechanism that will cover the air medical transport services that your insurance company does not.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

You probably have read or heard a story about someone who is alive today due to an air ambulance providing necessary emergency transportation to a hospital. All too common, however, is for that same person to receive a bill weeks later from the air ambulance company for the portion that their insurance did not cover.

Most health insurance carriers will only pay a part of the air ambulance transport bill, and, in the majority of cases, the patient is still faced with the issue of having to pay thousands of dollars out-of-pocket.

With a Trans Aero MedEvac membership, you will not have that problem. A yearly membership payment ensures that you and your covered family members will not have to pay anything beyond the amount reimbursed by your health insurance for a medically necessary air ambulance transport bill.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q: What is the cost of the program?

A: $35 annually (covers both individuals and their immediate family members)

Q: Why should I join? Doesn't my health insurance cover air medical transport?

A: Most health insurance plans only pay a portion of the cost, leaving you to pay the rest. The membership program helps protect you and your family during your time of need.

Q: Is there a limit to the number of flights?

A: As long as your membership is current, there is no limit on the number of flights.

Q: Why is this membership so inexpensive, yet it covers the cost of a flight?

A: The membership alone does not cover the cost of a flight. Your health insurance will also be billed. The membership covers the approved out-of-pocket expenses that are unpaid by your health insurance.

Q: Can I join if I don't have health insurance?

A: The program requires that you have health insurance to participate. Medicaid patients also may not participate due to state Medicaid rules.
